CUMBERLAND GAP IS OURS

The following brief but preguant mestage was received yesterday evening by Governor Johnson, from our Gen. Mongan CAMP NEAR CUMBERLAND GAP, 1

June 18, 1862. Cumberland Gap is ours. We will be glad to see you. GEORGE H. MORGAN.

Few words, but full of encouragement. On, on with the banner of the F-d-ral Union, until rebellion no longer shall retain one soldier on the soil of Tennessee!

Readyville Skirmish.

Capt. UNTHANK, of Company C, Fourth Kentucky Cavalry, who commanded the detachment captured at Readyville by STARNES' Cavalry, on the 7th instant, arrived in the city the other day. Himself and his detachment were taken by the rebels across Collins River, some ten miles from McMinnville, and were then paroled. Capt. UNTHANK reports his loss at only three, instead of six men, as at first reported. Their names and companies are: Joun Collins, Orderly Ser geant, Company A, Fourth Kentucky Cavalry; Ggo. Essic, private in the same, and WM. ANDY JONICAN, of the Governor's Guard. Joseph Kipp, Co. C. Fourth Kentucky Cavalry, was slightly wounded by buckshot, but is now able to walk. Esste was shot while eating his breakfast, and bayoneted while lying on the ground. JONICAN was riddled with shot after he was dead by the Rebels. One of our men had his hat torn to atoms by a load of buckshot, and escaped unharmed. The Rebels lost six killed.

General Dumont returned on Wednesday evening from McMinnville. He found the vaunted host of STARNES, HAR-BIS, etc., whose triumphant march into Nashville the rebels were anticipating with such rapture-vamoosed! They wouldn't stay to meet the Union boys; they ekedaddled; they evaporated .-When General Dumont's force left Mc-Minnville, there was quite an enthusiastic display of Union sentiment on the part of the people. A large crowd turned out and the rebel flag was hauled down and the national colors run up in its stead by the people. Stirring speeches were made by General Dumost and Col. CAMPBRLL of Ohio, which were loudly applauded. Many of the people wept freely for joy. There is a strong Union feeling even in this boasted rebel strong-

THEATRE.-The event of the season at the theatre will occur to-night, which has been chosen for the benefit of that worthy gentleman and artiste, Mr. Harry Everett, who is so well and favorably known to the citizens as to render any remarks superfluous. In addition to his merits as an actor, Mr. E. has also provided one of the best bills yet offered .-The well-known comedy of Paul Pry, in which Mr. E. will sustain the principal character. Then follows a musical melange, in which Messrs. Duffield, Claude Hamilton and the Ochestra will participate. To conclude with the burlesque of Beauty and the Beast, with all its delicious music. During the piece the graceful Miss Constantine will execute a Pas Suel. This bill ought to draw "at might," Let the public remember "Harry" to-night, for he is an apt illustration of the old song, "For he's a jolly good fellow," &c. Secure your scale in

COOL AND CREAMY .- Our friend P. G'Conne has recently embarked in a new enterprise, It must be a success, for his 'style' is purely cosmopolitan, Ice Cream is a standard commodity at this season, and it will always be found in its purity at his establishment, on Union street, No 43, between Cherry and College. Families, parties and consumers generally, are invited to call and sample it. The quality is prime.

The New York Post states that at the recent sale of the prime schooner Stephen Hart, a large number of Confederate army buttons were offered. They were bought by the Commissioners of Charity and Correction, with the purpose of compelling convicts on Blackwell's Island who misbehave themselves, to wear them as a mark of disgrace.

Union Meeting in Pulnski.

The meeting on Monday last, in Puand missing in the Seventh Tennessee laski, in point of numbers and enthusiasm for the good cause, was everything that our most sanguine frientls could expect. The large Court room was filled to overflowing with the good and the solid men of Giles, who assembled once more under the glory of the Stars and Stripes to swear fealty to the Constitution of the Federal Union.

THOMAS MARTIN, Esq., presided, supported by such men as Dr. CARTER, Mr. BALLANTINE and many other equally as tried and true to the great interests of Tennessee and the Union.

Col. MUNDY, of the 23d Kentucky, was the principal speaker. He held his vast audience spell-bound with the beauty, force and eloquence of his address .-As a gentleman remarked to me after it was over, "This speech has lifted the fog was over, "This speech has lifted the fog that has so cruelly bewildered us; we can now see the land and the haven in can now see the land and the haven in which is our only safety." He was frequently interrupted by the delighted audience; and well was he seconded by our own fellow-citizen, John E. Walk-Es, Esq., who had but arisen from a bed of sickness, but still felt strong enough to push along the ball that Col. MUNDY had such difficulty at first in starting.

Mr. WALKER's address was eloquent, forcible and convincing. He has thrown himself into the cause with his whole soul. A fearless, honest patriot-the people will remember him when the "good time comes."

Mr. GEORGE BARKS, formerly of the Nashville Banner, was called upon by the audience. Mr. Banen is a chaste and multiply thorrors of every kind multiply thorrors of every kind multiply and the S are of Maryland, which should be truly eloquent speaker. He is now a perfect enthusiast in the holy cause of the Union. He threw all hesitancy and timidity to the winds and planted himself firmly and consistently on the Constitution as the only ark of safety to his beloved and erring Tennessee.

Arrangements were made to hold a mass meeting on Saturday next, when Gov. Johnson and Neil. S. Brown, with many others, will be present to address the citizens of Giles on the momentous issue of the day. All good citizens, who have the welfare of their State at heart, are earnestly invited to attend.

The remark made by the minister to whom allusion was made in the Union of June 13th, was, in substance, "this:-There is one theme of which we never become wearied, and that theme is the character of the Messiah. Orations delivered upon the 4th of July, in memory of George Washington even, become stale, because their subjects may be exhausted. But the character of Jesus is always capable of being presented in new

We insert very willingly the above even the appetite of the New York publi card, handed to us by the gentlemen who informed us that they were present on the occasion referred to in their card .-We are anxious, if we have done the minister an injustice, by putting a wrong construction on his remarks, to make all amends, by giving him the benefit of an explanation. As reported by our correspondents, we see nothing objectionable in the remark that any temporal theme may become stale, and tiresome, although we fear that, owing to the fact that the "hearts of men are fully set within them to do evil," even sacred themes do not always interest the most godly. At least ity any bluberto f. ught. we have noticed, and with pain, that good old deacons and elders, and pious old ladies, are apt to nod during the most pathetic sermons, and to snore while their favorite expositor is enlarging on the fifteenth head of his sermon. But we merely desire to say that we have no wish to misrepresent any one, and are particularly pleased to hear an explanation of a remark which was most revoltblood of a traitor is as black as the ing, as at first reported, to the car of all
